Council of Emerging
Bank Leaders (CEBL)

The Council of Emerging Bank Leaders (CEBL) is a professional membership organization sponsored by the Utah Bankers Association

The future of banking depends upon a new generation of bankers

for highly motivated individuals working to advance their careers in the world of banking. Your participation in CEBL will prepare you for leadership opportunities within the banking industry by providing you with a bird's eye view of the issues faced by bank executives. Through networking, mentoring, education and experiential learning you will develop the broad range of skills and knowledge critical to moving beyond your current position and into leadership positions in the financial services industry.

With CEBL, we are creating the great banking leaders of tomorrow—today! Join, and enjoy these benefits.

Quarterly roundtable lunches

Regional meetings with bank leaders and experts to provide insights on current issues and perspectives relevant to directing the operations of a bank in the current market environment - an opportunity to network, seek mentors and provide mentoring.

Periodic electronic communications

Access to selected CEO and VIP updates on current issues and concerns. These updates will provide a "bird's eye view" of industry happenings bank leaders must understand.

Annual emerging bank leaders conference

Focused on leadership development and current issues in an interactive environment with bank leaders and expert guests. The conference promotes strategic thinking and hands-on involvement through case scenarios and relevant simulations.

Leadership opportunities

CEBL offers leadership opportunities throughout the state to facilitate delivery of CEBL programs to bankers in their local community. Regional leaders will receive invitations to participate in Utah Bankers Association events such as the annual Capitol Hill Visit program to Washington D.C., UBA's Hall of Fame Luncheon, and the UBA Annual Convention.
